Young Hits CIA 'Mistakes', Asks Watchdog Panel

By Press Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The U. S. Central Intelligence Agency has an outstanding record—of mistakes, according to Sen. Stephen Young of Ohio.

To keep the spy agency under tighter control, the senator introduced a bill to create a joint congressional committee watchdog over CIA.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.) called for a Senate probe of the CIA after Young proposed the watchdog committee.

The CIA spends more than the State Department, yet is free of effective congressional scrutiny, declared Young.

He said CIA mistakes included its denial and subsequent admission that an agent offered a $3,000,000 bribe to Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore.

The agency bungled the U. S. U-2 spy plane incident five years ago and the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion in Cuba, said the senator.
